

PRESS RELEASE

Presentation of the results of the current Public Value Study on January 28, 2019, at FHWien der WKW

SORA Institute, ORF Public Value and FHWien der WKW invite to an evening within the framework of the ORF initiative "Public Value Lectures: Media & Democracy".

Vienna, January 25, 2019 – "How public broadcasting can fulfil its democratic mandate and develop it under the conditions of the digital media world" – this is the topic that will be discussed on Monday, January 28, 2019, at 18:30 at FHWien der WKW.

Following the presentation of the "Democracy Monitor", Günther Ogris (SORA) and Klaus Unterberger (ORF Public Value) will discuss current media policy issues and the challenges for quality media production.

SORA Institute, ORF Public Value and FHWien der WKW jointly invite to this evening as part of the ORF initiative "Public Value Lectures: Media & Democracy".

Six scientists from Austria, Great Britain and Germany participated in the study. As part of the ORF initiative "Public Value Lectures: Media & Democracy", their contributions were presented and discussed at various Austrian universities and technical colleges from November 2018 to January 2019.

Date: Monday, January 28, 2019, 18:30-20:30

Location: FHWien of the WKW, Währinger Gürtel 97, 1180 Vienna
Room: Please note the screens at the entrance.

Registration is requested.
